Westfield Stratford Shopping Centre Case Study

In 2017, Westfield submitted plans to expand to create a new shopping level with space for around 75 new shops and kiosks underneath the existing Marks and Spencer store. The extension, referred to as Phase 2 centre, commenced soon after, in 2018.

The management company were aware that a DMS had been used during construction of recent building on the site and so the management company decided to contact the development arm of Westfield who immediately recommended the DMS they had used- Zone Manager. They quickly put Philip Jones from the Westfield management company in touch with Zone Manager who were able to demonstrate how quickly and easily Zone Manager could be set up configured to function as a retail centre delivery management system. COVID-19 AND CONSTRUCTION: EARLY LESSONS FOR A NEW NORMAL?

ZONE MANAGER OFFERS REMOTE TRAINING SESSIONS

Testimonial

“For Logistics Managers, the benefits of Zone Manager are vast. Deliveries are a lot better organised, there is a lot less paperwork and fewer mistakes are made. With regards to the holding park functionality, there are more deliveries arriving that are planned and the printed permits are crucial for security and compliance. ”

COVID-19 and construction: Early lessons for a new normal?

Loughborough University were commissioned to provide a rapid ‘snapshot’ of the impact of COVID-19 on construction and one of their findings was around the increased use of technology during COVID-19 crisis.

“Those who had used these methods said they would continue to do so, with benefits of: improved engagement, lower time and travel costs. Remote site visits can also engage external visitors without too many coming onto site, which can impair project progress.”
